Elizabeth Villars, Principal

About

As the owner & founder of Red Lily Interiors, Villars brings a deep, lifelong passion for interior design to every project she undertakes, without rules or boundaries.

Even as a child, the Brooklyn, NY native had a flair for décor that belied her future endeavors. “As I moved from one place to the next, it was important to make my surroundings feel like home,” recalls Villars. “As a teen, I would transform my room every two months or so.”

Villars’ experience includes graphic design, art, drawing and over a decade in the construction industry. She also held a position in building management at lower Manhattan’s Trinity Centre, regularly reviewing blueprints and dealing with contractors and vendors. Villars continues to hone her interior design knowledge through various courses, and is a pending member of the National Association of Professional Organizers (NAPO).

Based in Jersey City, NJ, Red Lily Interiors serves clients throughout Jersey and NYC. When she’s not transforming clients’ spaces, Villars spends her time working on her “baby”—a recently-purchased 1910 Dutch colonial that she’s currently restoring.

“It’s the project of a lifetime, with exposed brick, fireplaces, high ceilings, and hardwood floors...it just needs some love,” she explains. “It’s a challenge and hard work, but I love it!”
